Course elements

- Pre-recorded lectures
- Live guided Q&A sessions (online)
- Live computer lab sessions (either in person in London or online)

All students are advised to listen to (most) pre-recorded lectures in the week BEFORE the summer school.
But there is some time to listen to these during the week as well.
   However, those in Western Europe/US do NOT have time to listed to the material of a particular day on the day it self.
   So at least listen to the Monday lecture before the course starts.
You can attend any of Q&A sessions but you must choose in advance which computer lab session you will attend

For the Americas there is no break between the Q&A and the start of the computer lab session
   (but the lab sessions are informal and you can take a break during them)
